

ASTON MARTIN DB5 LHD

£POA

This very rare left hand drive Aston Martin DB5 first left the factory in Newport Pagnell in February 1964 to be registered to its first owner Monsieur Haas, Rue De Provenance, Paris. Originally in Goodwood Green with beige trim, and the specification was as you see it here with factory options of 3.77 P-Lok Rear Axle Ratio and Chrome Wheels. Monsieur Haas kept the car for some time before it came into the hands of Monsieur Maurice Teisserenc of La Palue, near the Atlantic coast in South West France. He acquired the car in 1978 and eventually parted with it in 1988 when it was taken on by Monsieur Olivier Paris, back in Paris, Rue Pelouze, coincidentally, a stone's throw from where it started its life! Olivier only kept the car for a short time as a guarantee issued by Garage Vaillant in January 1990 for 12 months shows. The numerous invoices and documents in the history file show that this guarantee would have been issued to a Monsieur Scali of Ave Montaigne, Paris. The next change of owner according to the file comes in 1997 when it becomes the property of Monsieur Dominique Bense from Ormeaux in North West France where it had remained until purchased by the current owner in 2014. It has remained in conditioned storage in the UK since then.

Although in some parts original this DB5 retains a solid chassis and sills and has been well looked after throughout its life in France with regular maintenance which includes a major strip and paint in 1979, a complete engine re-build in 1989 and a rear axle re-build in 2003. It has also recently benefitted from having all the leather trim re-Connollised along with new Wilton carpets throughout and new headlining.

Original Left-Hand Drive DB5's are very rare and this car is a lovely matching numbers example of a well looked after but original piece of history and comes with a comprehensive history file and even an original French DB5 Hand Book!
